General conditions

All rights to the competition entry remain with the submitting party. The submission of competition entries for both award categories, Contemporary Sustainable Fashion and Accessories, is permitted.

Please note that you can only submit one entry per category. In the case of multiple submissions, the first application submitted will automatically be evaluated - if another application is to be evaluated, an information e-mail must be sent to mfa.contest@muenchen.de before the submission deadline.

The submitting party is liable to the organizer of the award for the fact that the competition entry / submission does not violate any rights of third parties.

If necessary, the submitting party will indemnify the organizer of the award from all claims and possible expenses that may be asserted by third parties due to an infringement of rights.

By submitting the entry documents, the submitting party agrees that the submitted work (photographic material, marketing texts, etc.) may be used by the organizers of the award and its service provider in context of the application, documentation, marketing and reporting of the competition. The submitting party grants all necessary rights of use for this purpose. The right of use of the organizers is not exclusive, but unlimited in its duration and its scope of locality and refers to all known and unknown types of exploitation.

The organizers of the award are entitled to pass on the submitter's personal data obtained in the course of the competition, such as names or photos, to third parties (e.g. to the media). If disclosure is not wished, the submitting party will inform the organizers of the awards at the time of submission to which data of non-disclosure refers to.

In case of shortlisting, the submitting party in the category Contemporary Sustainable Fashion agrees to provide a minimum of 15 looks (with a maximum of 20) for a show and exhibition. The submitting party in the category Accessories agrees to provide at least 5 pieces for exhibition in case of shortlisting. Therefore the party is willing to travel to Munich and set up on 14.05.2025. The exhibition will be open for jury inspection and the award show on 15.05.2025. On 16.05.2025, the exhibition will be available to the public. Additionally, the submitting party confirms their attendance at the award show, should they be shortlisted, which will take place on 15.05.2025.

In case of winning, the submitting party declares their willingness to participate in master classes and mentoring sessions of the partners.

The submitting party must ensure that the payment of the prize money does not exceed the De-minimis grant limit of 300,000€ within three years. Prize money is also covered by this subsidy.

There is no legal entitlement to the award of a prize or prize money.
